

The Old Post Office, Lower Lane, Chorley, Lichfield
£575,000

3 2 2

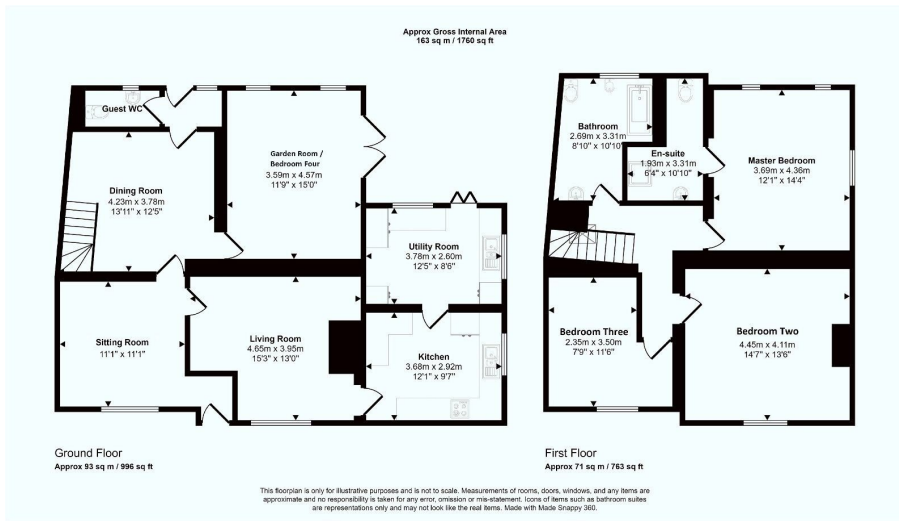

Sitting in a 0.18 acre plot The Old Post Office boasts a wealth of charm and character right throughout, and sits in the peaceful village of Chorley, it's safe to say that we really have delivered with this one! A substantial, immaculately presented cottage which comes to the market with exposed timber beams throughout and an abundance of living space, this property has something for everyone. To the ground floor, the accommodation comprises four reception rooms, one of which could be utilised as a fourth bed if preferred, separate contemporary kitchen and utility room / breakfast room and a guest WC, whilst to the first floor are three double bedrooms, one with an en-suite and also the family bathroom, combining contemporary and traditional features beautifully. A detached double garage with large sweeping drive and large lawned garden to the rear provide ample opportunity for storage, gardening and entertaining during those warmer evenings and will make for a picturesque outlook from inside. It's not often a property with such a plethora of attributes comes to the market, so we must strongly advise a viewing is booked in at your earliest convenience. Call now to secure yours. The heating is oil fuelled.
